

Saturday, January 10, 2015
10:30 am – 12:30 pm
Meeting/Mixer
Women's National Book Association—
San Francisco Chapter

Digital Storytelling: New Opportunities for Women Writers

Oakland Main Library, Meeting Room
125 14th Street, Oakland, CA 94612

Laura Fraser, Cofounder and Editorial Director of Shebooks.net, a new digital storytelling platform for women will discuss how the shifting media landscape from print to digital is full of new opportunities for telling your story.

Shebooks.net is a digital storytelling platform by and for women. Shebooks believes that every woman has a story, and helps women share those stories to inspire, educate, entertain, and empower each other.

shebooks
Every woman has a story

Shebooks new print anthology, Whatever Doesn't Kill You, be on sale and the popular Equal Writes T-shirt!

Mix and mingle. Bring your books, bookmarks, and business cards!
Giveaway Raffle of a Shebooks.net "Equal Writes" T-shirt ($35 value)!

Please RSVP online: <http://wnba-sfchapter.org/>