

THE WOMAN WARRIOR IN ALL OF US: MAXINE HONG KINGSTON IN CONVERSATION WITH VANESSA HUA

Join us in honoring the legendary Maxine Hong Kingston on the 40th anniversary of her seminal work, The Woman Warrior.

Maxine Hong Kingston's memoirs and fiction have earned numerous awards, among them the National Book Award, the National Book Critics Circle Award for Nonfiction, the PEN West Award for Fiction, an American Academy of Arts and Letters Award in Literature, and a National Humanities Medal from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Kingston was also awarded the 2013 National Medal of Arts by President Barack Obama.

Vanessa Hua, author of Deceit And Other Possibilities and a columnist at the SF Chronicle, is a former Steinbeck Fellow, winner of the James D. Phelan Fiction Award, and recipient of a Rona Jaffe Foundation Writers' Award. For nearly two decades, she has covered Asia and the diaspora in journalism and in fiction, writing about the ways immigrants bring their traditions, their histories, and their ambitions to America.

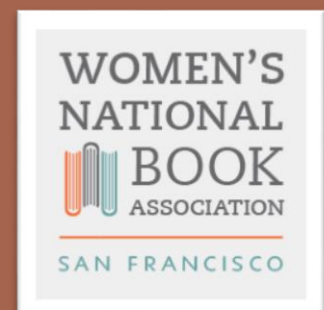

Help us kick off the 100th year of the Women's National Book Association! Admission includes a glass of wine (21 and over) and refreshments. Book signings to follow.

BOOKWOMEN SPEAK: The Women's National Book Association
Centennial
Visionaries Series

January 7, 2017
4:00 – 6:00 pm

Women's Building,
Andre Lorde Room

3543 18th Street, San Francisco, CA 94110

Members: $15
Non-Members: $20
Door Price: $25
Includes wine and refreshments
Sign up online:
<http://wnba-sfchapter.org>